Lee Shippey Writes On Westerns

We often make fun of the asserted exaggerations of televised Westerns. But Roosevelt, Theodore "Ranch Life and the Hunting Trail." wrote: "One vigilante committee in east. ern Montana shot or hung nearly 60 men - not, however, with the best judgment in all cases." And that was in 1884, within the memory of many persons now living. It makes one realize that with all the faults of our long-drawn-out trials, life in the West is far, far better

I wouldn't have known

this if the Alan Vaughan Elstons of Santa Ana hadn't dropped in on us and while they were with us the mail arrived, bringing an vance copy of Allan's 21th historical Western novel, "Roundup on the Yellowstone," a story which brings to life that era and opens with the quotation from Teddy Roosevelt. that they are one hundred percent serious in asking that you spend your consumer dollar in the City of Sierra Madre, and help them to help you. Watch for it. Carlton as discussion lead-

At long last, our Flag Pole will soon be dedicated, and this will be Saturday, November 17. I am truly proud of the people of Sierra Madre who have put their shoulders to the wheel and the nickles, dimes and dollars in the pot so that this project could be completed for Sierra Madre in Kersting

The pole is up. It is ready for the flag. Many of us have wondered why the flag was not flying from it on November 11. According to constructural code the cement that surrounds the pole must season for 28 days. The chances of damaging the foundation was too great, but a wonderful Several local artists have dedication program has won awards in the current been planned by your local ninth annual exhibit of Las VFW Post under the chairmanship of Commander Duncan Vail Gallery, 637 S. Although I do Carole Palmerston: First not at present have the award, "Nude," portrait and actual figures at hand it is in the vicinity of about $150, that could be used to wipe out the indebtedness. Your dollar would be appreciated and welcomed.

> There are a few "Comrads" in Sierra Madre, that have not as yet sent in their contribution. Would you care to send in a dollar in their name. We would accept same.

—CT—
Do you realize that taking today, November 15, off the calendar that we have but 32 more shopping days until Christmas. Further do you realize that ninety-nine percent of the merchants of Sierra Madre have that good old "layaway-plan." That you can come down right now and while stocks are full and complete and make your selection

That for a few pennies or dollars you can have this item put aside for you and you do not have to worry about it, or the person that it has been selected for until the day before Christmas. Sure and they will even have it all gift wrapped for you, just leaving you with the signing of the card and the delivery, and even some merchants will deliver it for . how much easier could it be.

-CT-One comment before I

I noticed one of the men standing in the doorway with a cigarette and he was smoking away like a Pittsburgh steel mill smoke stack and it reminded us of an observation a cancer specialist made one time. Speaking of the ratio of lung cancer to the heavy smokers he said: "Man was not meant to smoke. And our reasoning is quite simple. We are supposed to see and the Lord gave us eyes, we were meant to hear, thus our ears, we were meant to have sense of smell, thus a nose; but if the good Lord wanted us to smoke he would have put a chimney in the middle of our head."

—CT— With this I must say farewell for this week, I have a tremendous job patching some fence in the back political forty, seems that it was torn and ripped during the past few weeks. I'll be seeing you around, I hope, I hope, I hope.

The only unpardonable sin is turning one's back on God and rejecting Him, said the Rev. Ray E. Hansen in announcing his sermon, "Always Forgiveness," for 10:10 mortals.' a.m. Sunday, Nov. 18, at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. ,Sierra Madre. "God always forgives us when we truly repent," he said. "More, He gives us the strength to resist the old evils and temptations that beset us." The sermon, based on Christ's answer to Peter One of the correlative concerning forgiveness in Matthew 18:21-35, will apply this great teaching to modern living. The traditional Thanksgiving Eve family worship will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 21, at the church. It will feature special music, including hymns of thanksgiving and praise, and the anthem by the Chancel Choir, "Prayer of Thanksgiving." Pastor Hansen's message will be "We Gather Together.' This will be the final Thanksgiving service for the congregation in its present location. Construction underway for the first building on the site at 7 W. Foothill Blvd., Arcadia. Completion is anticipated in about

I know that I should dedicate this editorial to the results of the past election. I should come forth with the full explanation as to why this candidate was defeated and why this one was elected. I should exploit the pros and the cons of the various propositions that were rati- planes off the peaks of exfied by the voters and those that were defeated. I know cellence, hones down the that I should do this, and it is not because I do not have differences, dries up diverthe heart to do so, because many of my selections were sity, and leaves a bleak elected and many of the propositions were defeated as were san some of them victorious.

My prime reason is, that I feel that each of you are the American free enterfully aware of the conditions, that caused the reaction of the voters. In any event, we as the voters of the United States, in majority, have set forth our wishes and our desires. It is now the command of all of us to do our best, ernment are many and dearly in loss of self-respect. to see that these wishes are fulfilled to the best of the great. However, the basic ability of those selected to do so.

I do not necessarily say that we should now drop our beliefs. That we should go along with the dictates of the various candidates. Not at all, but I do say that we should put our shoulders to the wheel, apply our thinking and our ideas so that those who are to serve us, know full well the job that we expect them to do during the time we as voters have allotted them.

By so doing, we have left no stone unturned toward freedom to succeed, freedom man.' making the State of California the leading State of the Nation. If those that we have selected fall short in our expectations of them. If they do not have the qualities that we, as voters, thought they had on November 6, then we will do the job all over when November rolls around Regardless, who may have been the first to cast the viet Union and other lands stone, this election was one of the nastiest that I have benind the Iron Curtain, this ever experienced, and I have gone through several during is not the case. Each Rusthe Pendergast era in Kansas City, and the political bosses in Chicago. During those times they merely walked in with a gun and took the ballot boxes and filled them with their own ballots. Openly they also paid money for votes. They did not dig skeletons from the closets, they did not have to stoop to this. They merely sent out the word as to who to vote for, and if you wanted to stay alive and enjoy your job that is the way you voted.

Yes, there are a great many reasons, why this one or that one did not receive the majority of votes in the November 6th election. There are as many reasons as there were voters, but the majority has spoken, the votes have been tabulated, and the men and the propositions are standing in their correct column. Let's work toward helping them obtain the very best government possible.

Sierra Madre, on the edge of a sprawling and faceless metropolis, can thank its lucky stars that it retains that small town spirit of enthusiastic participation.

One organization which represents that spirit is the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library. They're really not so much a formal organization as a group of people who care deeply - and do something - about Sierra Madre's cultural and intellectual welfare. And since this is National Library Week, the Friends and their activities are of special importance.

The Friends sponsor films, art exhibits and programs. They are planning a sidewalk art fair for next spring. And they raise money for the Library. Last year the Friends added $3500 worth of books to Library shelves through their annual book sale.

Despite this lively record of achievement, the Friends manage it with a minimum of formal folderol which characterizes so many organizations. You can join for as little as a dollar; a family membership costs $5. There are no regular meetings requiring attendance; you can be just as active as you want to be.

If you're looking for a way to get into the act . . if you want to show some of that small town spirit, we can't think of a better -or easier - way to do it than by joining the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library.

We Steal a Thought

An eminent contemporary in the neighbor-state city of Phoenix recently printed an item so pertinent to some things we often think about that we take the liberty of passing it along intact: "We recently ran across the following item: Last year the U.S. government refused a $5.5 million loan to keep the New Haven Railroad out of bankruptcy (as indeed it should). Yet since 1946 our government has loaned and given to the railroads (most of them government owned) of foreign countries the total of $1.4 billion — more than 250 times the New Haven request."

As the Arizona Republic observed: "No comment."
